

Welcome to the 2016 AIA Housing Awards

The Housing Knowledge Community of the American Institute of Architects (AIA) established this awards program to recognize the best in housing design for households of all incomes. The program emphasizes the importance of good housing as a necessity of life, a sanctuary for the human spirit, and a valuable national resource. It is the intent of the program to recognize quality work in a variety of design styles.

Eligibility

All architects licensed in the U.S. are invited to submit their completed, built projects located in the U.S. In addition, owners of structures or projects fitting the eligibility guidelines may submit those projects for review. New construction, renovations, restored homes and buildings of any size, budget, or style are eligible, including mixed-use projects.

Projects completed since January 1, 2011, are eligible. "Completion" is synonymous with "substantial completion" as defined in the standard AIA contract documents governing construction.

The submitting architect may qualify as a member of a design team, whether or not serving as head of the team. All significant contributors to the design of the project must be given credit as part of the submission. Project authorship which includes the name of the architect and/or firm must remain anonymous - failure to follow this requirement will result in disqualification.
