2017 AIA Honorary Membership

Members of the AIA Board of Directors, Strategic Council, chapters, or Knowledge Communities may submit nominations.

Eligibility

Nominees must not be eligible for membership in the Institute, including individuals who:

- are eligible by education or experience and are employed, enrolled or participating in circumstances recognized by licensing authorities as constituting credit toward architectural licensure, or
- are employed under the supervision of an architect in a professional or technical capacity directly related to the practice of architecture, or
- have a professional degree in architecture, or are faculty members in university programs in architecture and who are actively involved in research, administration, or the teaching of architecture, or
- have an architectural license or the equivalent from a non-U.S. licensing authority and demonstrate honorable standing in the profession in the locale in which they are licensed

Institute and component staff members may be nominated for Honorary Membership during their employment after:

- they have completed a cumulative total of ten years as employees of the Institute and/or one or more components
- such employment need not be continuous
- the Secretary may waive all or part of the period of employment if an individual may be eligible for nomination for reasons other than his or her employment as an Institute or component staff member

Because the Jury must rely solely on the submission to speak for the achievements of the nominees, great responsibility lies with the nominator and references of the nominee. The nominators should feel certain that the nominee's achievements have sufficient distinction to make them notable contributions to the advancement of the profession or its allied arts and sciences. They should remember that the age, personality, and popularity of the nominee do not, of themselves, constitute a notable contribution, and Honorary Membership is not an award for the nominee's industry or success.

2017 Honorary Membership Jury

Beverly Hauschild Baron, Hon. AIA

Britt Lindberg, AIA
