Dear Miss Miller:

The Committee on Membership has before it the application of Donald LeRoy Yinger for corporate membership in The Institute and would appreciate further clarification of the application.

Mr. Yinger states, under "Business Affiliations" that he is Vice President and Architectural Advisor for the Mid Cities Construction Co., Inc.

The Committee would like to know the extent of Mr. Yinger's participation, and whether it might not constitute, in the opinion of the Chapter, a conflict with the independent practice of the profession of architecture.

The next meeting of the Task Force of the Committee on Membership will be held on January 21, and hopes that it will be possible to have a response to this inquiry at that time, when the application may be reconsidered.

Sincerely yours,

Joseph H. Saunders, Jr., A.I.A., Chairman

Dear Miss Gervais:

With reference to your letter of December 18, regarding application of Mr. Donald Leroy Yinger and with particular reference to his business affiliation as Vice-President and Architectural Advisor for the Mid Cities Construction Inc.

Our Membership Committee has investigated Mr. Yinger's association with this firm and has assured us that his affiliation would in no way impair his standing in the Institute and in their opinion does not in any way violate the Institute's Standards of Practice. Copy of Mr. Yinger's letter to the Membership Committee is attached.

Mr. Yinger is also associated with Mr. Randall, Director of this Chapter and he highly recommends him as a member of the Institute.

We trust that this additional information will be sufficient to complete Mr. Yinger's application.

Mr. Thompson:

This is an answer to your letter of January 24, 1958, regarding my participation in the Mid-Cities Construction Company.

In the first place, this company was organized to build only small homes, and only from its own plans. It has never bid any work competitively, and never will. It has never built except from its own plans.

We were brought into the corporation to help with design, and meet with the builders, salesmen, appraisers, etc., to keep plans abreast of needs.

I am aware of the stand of the Institute regarding independent practice: it has been my feeling that the association as outlined above is not a violation of that stand.

Sincerely yours,
