NOTED ORANGE COUNTY ARCHITECT MOVES TO NEW OFFICES

D.J. Daniel, Jr., head of D.J. Daniel, Jr. & Associates, has announced the moving of his company to new quarters. Formerly located at 901 Dover Drive, Newport Beach, he is now situated in offices at 1670 Santa Ana Avenue, Costa Mesa.

Moving to Orange County in 1966, he selected this area because of its amazing growth and rapid strides toward industrialization. The ensuing years have proved his faith in Orange County. Prior to moving here, Mr. Daniel was a partner with the firm of Powell & Daniel in Long Beach. During the past several years, he has rapidly gained an enviable reputation for his architectural concepts, and for the diversity of his talents. Among buildings he has designed are included churches, mausoleums, factories, office buildings, bakeries and, most recently, a beautiful educational center at Claremont College, recently dedicated.

The need for larger space dictated the current move, and Mr. Daniel feels that his clients will benefit from the change. He said, "Our new offices will enable us to add the types of services and facilities which are inherently important in the work we do." He has cordially invited friends, associates, clients, and interested business men to visit him at his new offices.
