2. Accreditation and Voting Procedures

Duties of the Credentials Committee

The Credentials Committee, in conjunction with the AIA Secretary, is charged with overseeing the accreditation of delegates and balloting for the election of officers. AIA staff overseeing online accreditation will refer disputes or problems to the Committee for decision.

The Credentials Committee reviews and certifies the Credentials Report before it is presented at the annual meeting on June 10, 2021, for the delegates’ acceptance prior to voting on business items.

Accreditation

Delegate votes are allocated to each chapter according to the formula in the AIA Bylaws that is based on the number of its assigned Architect and Associate members in good standing.

Chapters may accredit their delegates online in advance of the annual meeting on June 10, 2021. Online accreditation will open on April 26, 2021, and will close May 21, 2021.

Each chapter may elect to distribute its delegates’ votes among members attending the annual meeting, or to have the votes all held by one individual, such as the chapter president.

Whatever manner the chapter chooses to select its delegates, every delegate must be accredited to vote at the annual meeting by 5pm (EDT) on May 21, 2021.

Each chapter’s total votes are evenly divided among the accredited delegates (subject to rules concerning Associate members below). For example, if a chapter has nine (9) delegate votes which it distributes to three (3) individuals who are Architect members, each individual’s vote would count as three (3) votes; if only one (1) delegate is accredited from the chapter, only that person can cast the chapter’s nine votes.

Note that while Associate members may serve as chapter delegates, they may not be accredited to cast more than one-third (1/3) of the votes of an AIA chapter, and their votes will not be counted until the chapter’s Architect member delegate(s) has been accredited and voted.

Prior to the annual meeting on June 10, 2021, Associate delegates should verify that at least one (1) Architect member will also be accredited as a delegate and is able to cast a vote.

Voting for Officers

If an accredited delegate (Associate or Architect member) does not vote in the election of officers and the At-large Director, the chapter loses that allocation of votes.

Voting for officers and the At-large Director will open at 5pm (EDT) on June 11, 2021.

No voting for officers or the At-large Director will be permitted after 5pm (EDT) on June 15, 2021, except in the event of a runoff election. If required, the runoff election voting will open at 7pm (EDT) on June 15, 2021, and close at 5pm (EDT) on June 17, 2021.

Proxy Voting

A proxy is a member or state delegate who is representing an absent chapter by voting on its behalf.

(Note: if a chapter president wishes to allocate the chapter’s votes to a member of the same chapter, that is not a proxy vote. That member being accredited is simply a member delegate, and no proxy authorization is required.)

If a chapter is unable to have any delegates in attendance at the annual meeting on June 10, 2021, and/or vote for officers and the At-large Director on June 11-17, 2021, the chapter may select a member or state delegate from another chapter in the same state or region to represent the absent chapter by proxy both at the meeting and for voting for officers and the At-large Director.

The president or authorized designee from the absent chapter must give written authorization to the attending member delegate.

The substitute delegate cannot be accredited to cast a proxy vote for the absent chapter unless the accreditation takes place online before May 21, 2021.

In most instances, a member delegate may represent only one chapter in addition to that delegate’s own chapter. The only exception to that rule is that: (a) a state delegate may represent by proxy more than one of the chapters in the state at the AIA annual meeting, and (b) the president of a state component may designate a member delegate from the state to represent by proxy more than one chapter in that state.

The delegate holding a proxy will vote several times, casting separate ballots for the proxy chapter and for the delegate’s own chapter. Each chapter will be allotted its authorized voting strength.

Delegates-at-large are permitted to accredit as member delegates for their own assigned chapters in addition to their Delegate-at-large votes but are not permitted to serve as proxies. Please do not ask a Delegate-at-large (that is, a past AIA President or a current Board member, officer, or Strategic Council member) to serve as a proxy for an absent chapter.

Any questions regarding the voting process can be directed to Pam Day, Hon. AIA, Corporate Secretary & Managing Director, Governance Administration, via email at pday@aia.org.
3. AIA Rules of Procedure for the Annual Meeting

Note: The Parliamentarian may not be communicated with directly by delegates or members during debate. Requests for a parliamentary ruling are addressed to the President, who may (or may not) consult with or refer the issue to the Parliamentarian.

The Parliamentarian will be available during the annual meeting to consult with and advise members on appropriate parliamentary procedures, on a confidential basis if requested. Such availability will be made as far as is practicable in this annual meeting’s virtual environment.

AIA’s Rules of Procedure are based on Robert’s Rules of Order, but do not follow them in all respects.

These Rules of Procedure will be presented for approval by the delegates at the start of the annual meeting.

Delegate’s Role

Delegates should be present to vote on Bylaws amendments, resolutions, and other business items at the annual meeting on June 10, 2021, 1-5pm (EDT).

Delegates should plan to join the virtual annual meeting thirty (30) minutes prior to its start to register their attendance and ensure their access to the voting program.

DELEGATES WHO FAIL TO REGISTER THEIR PRESENCE AT THE START OF THE ANNUAL MEETING WILL NOT BE ABLE TO VOTE AT THE MEETING.

If a delegate is absent from the annual meeting, the absent delegate’s votes are reallocated to those delegates present from the chapter and participating in the annual meeting.

If all of a chapter’s delegates are absent from the annual meeting, the chapter’s votes are lost, unless a proxy has been previously submitted during accreditation (on or before May 21, 2021).

4. Proposed Bylaws Amendments

Bylaws Amendment 21-A

Subject

Dissolution of AIA Regions

Background

Delegates to the 2018 annual meeting of the AIA approved by an overwhelming majority Resolution 18-7: Repositioning, Member Value and a Study of AIA Regions. The intent of the resolution, sponsored by AIA Portland and AIA Oregon, was:

To execute a study of AIA regions to document their wide variety of structures, missions, resources, and programs; to review the relationship between the new Strategic Council and the regions; and to identify best practice models and opportunities to increase member value, promote collaboration among components, provide consistent member service, align the work of components at all levels and make efficient use of member dues.

The Board of Directors ratified this resolution in September 2018 and work was performed by two separate task forces between 2018 and 2021: one to recommend a path forward, and the second to implement the recommended path as approved by the Board.

At its April 2020 meeting, the Board voted unanimously in favor of moving forward with the elimination of regions and to implement instead a states-based model. At its December 2020 meeting, the Board again voted unanimously in favor of the implementation plan to this states-based model.

The AIA Board is supporting the elimination of regions for the following reasons:

1. It better prepares AIA for the future. A modernized and streamlined governance model prepares AIA for the future – and positions the organization to better meet the demands of the 21st century. By focusing on three tiers, there are increased efficiencies with member dues, enhanced advocacy efforts to increase influence, and a more consistent member experience across components.

2. This change is designed for flexibility and collaboration. By focusing on state and local components who are already effective representatives of their geographic areas, this effort encourages components to come together based on shared interests, issues, or concerns, and not because of geographic proximity.
3. It allows for equal representation across the AIA. Moving to a states-based model provides all states with an equitable path for representation, thereby increasing diversity of leadership and diversity of thought.

4. It removes a layer of governance between the member and AIA. By eliminating regions, a more direct, streamlined connection between the state components and AIA will allow for more unified efforts and stronger communications.

5. State and local components are already hubs of engagement and influence. State components are centers of member influence. All maintain staff, communicate consistently with members, wield influence in their state on licensing and other practice-related issues, collaborate with local components in their state, promote design through design awards, and have active engagement with schools of architecture. Local components are vibrant hubs of member engagement – both in-person and virtually. Most produce hours upon hours of continuing education, wield influence in their communities on design, support local initiatives that improve communities, offer mentoring programs, engage with local civic leaders, and promote design through design awards.

Four (4) research and data collection phases were established. First, benchmarking research was conducted with AIA collateral organizations and five (5) other associations that employ, or have employed, various regions structures. Next, a comprehensive data collection effort was initiated with all nineteen (19) regions to ensure accurate data was being used to assess the current state and effectiveness of AIA regions. Next, two (2) concurrent electronic survey instruments were developed and fielded to two separate audiences: the first comprised a representative sample of AIA members; the second engaged constituents including member component leaders, CACE, Strategic Council, among others within AIA leadership. Several identical questions were asked in each survey instrument to develop an understanding of the differences between both audiences.

Some of the research findings included:

- Of the four (4) tiers comprising AIA, members reported receiving little value from their region. Survey after member survey reported members receive the most member value from their local component. State and national came next. Regions came in last place, with little member value being reported at this tier.
- There is little to no communication between the member and the region. Survey results indicated members rarely heard directly from their region.
- The pathway to the Strategic Council through the regions is not clear. Survey results indicated members were unaware of how to become a Strategic Councilor via their region.
- There is very little consistency region to region. Among the multi-state regions, there was no consistency from one region to another when it came to resourcing, engagement, maintaining staff, incorporation status, regional dues amount, and election of representatives.

- Regions are a legacy structure used well before the advent and availability of today’s communications media. The benchmarking research revealed other associations are moving away from formal regional structures and indicated that regional structures at other national/global associations are generally legacy structures retained from times when mass communication was more difficult. Moreover, some of the organizations interviewed were actively discontinuing their regional structures to adapt to shifts in member communication needs and achieve greater organizational effectiveness.

The Task Force also considered the impact of regions on components, finding that regional dues are inconsistent between single state regions (which do not pay regional dues) and multi-state regions (wherein the states of that region pay regional dues at varying rates, which diverts funds from the state component’s budget). Regional dues create additional financial strain on some state and local component budgets, which are already limited due to the COVID pandemic. By eliminating regions, much-needed dollars and resources will be freed up for local component programming. With components utilizing digital technology more often now, new opportunities to collaborate are already being realized, and content and knowledge are being shared with members wherever they live.

Outreach to gather feedback was presented to constituents through numerous webinars including one to all nineteen (19) regions: one at Grassroots and several others specific to the Strategic Council. Nearly 1,000 AIA component and member leaders attended. The National Associates Committee and the Young Architects Forum, as well as the Small Firm Exchange have voiced their support of these Bylaws amendments.

If approved, the transition to eliminate regions will take place over a three (3) year period and conclude by 2024, at which time the transition should be complete. All current Strategic Councilors will finish their term on the Council, and a transition plan for staggered terms will be implemented.

Required Vote to Amend Bylaws

Bylaws amendments require approval by an affirmative two-thirds vote of the delegates at the meeting, determined in the manner prescribed in Section 9.011 of the Bylaws.

Motion

The delegates assembled at the 2021 annual meeting amend the AIA Bylaws as they appear in this Booklet, and also authorize the AIA Secretary to renumber any sections and section references resulting from such amendments.

2.074 Participation in an Unassigned Chapter. In addition to membership in the assigned chapter, a member may, without action by the Institute, participate voluntarily in any unassigned chapter upon approval of an application by such chapter. The member, however, may not vote for delegates or on matters affecting the Institute in the unassigned chapter and shall be listed in the records of the Institute only in the assigned chapter.
2.075 Voluntary Assignment. Architect and Associate members who are not assigned when admitted to membership may request assignment to any component that agrees to accept the assignment. Members so assigned shall be counted as assigned members for apportionment of delegates and directors and shall have all the rights and privileges of assigned members in the same membership category, except that the component may lower dues and/or assessments for nonresident members. Notwithstanding any other provisions hereof, no members assigned to components outside the United States shall be counted as assigned members for the apportionment of Regional Representatives on the Strategic Council.

2.076 Members Not Assigned. Architect and Associate members who are not assigned to a component under any of the provisions of section 2.07 shall be members only of the Institute and shall not be counted for the apportionment of delegates or directors. 2.081 Resignation from Membership. A member in good standing may resign from the Institute in writing. The resignation shall be offered in writing to the Institute through the assigned chapter, and if the individual is eligible to resign, the chapter shall forward the resignation to the Institute in a timely manner. 2.083 Termination Without Prejudice. When the Institute finds that a member is no longer eligible for membership, judged by the same standards used to admit that member, such membership may be terminated with the same effect as resignation in good standing provided, however, that the member shall be given full opportunity to explain the member’s position before being terminated.

2.084 Membership While Ethics Charge is Pending. Notwithstanding any other provision in these Bylaws, a member against whom a charge of violating the Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct is pending may not resign or be terminated from membership until all proceedings related to the charge are completed.

2.085 Loss or Suspension of Interests, Rights and Privileges. Any individual who resigns, is suspended, or is terminated from membership thereby loses all rights and privileges granted by law or these Bylaws, including the right to use the Institute's name, initials, or symbol until reinstated in good standing.

2.09 Readmission to Membership.

2.091 Eligibility. Any person whose membership was terminated for violation of the Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct may be readmitted only with the approval of the Board of Directors. 5.01 Annual Meeting of the Institute.

5.011 Annual Convention. There shall be an annual meeting of the Institute, also called the annual convention.

5.012 Time and Place of Annual Meeting. The annual meeting shall be held at a time and place determined by the Board.

5.02 Special Institute Meetings.

5.021 Power to Call Special Meetings. A special meeting of the Institute shall be held if a call for it, stating its purpose, has been voted at a meeting of the Institute or by the concurring vote of a majority of the members of the Board or by resolution duly adopted by not less than 25% of the assigned members in each of six chapters, each of which shall be in a different state, or for international chapters, in the International Component region.

5.022 Business at Special Meetings. No business other than that specified in the call shall be transacted at a special meeting.

5.1 NOTICE OF MEETINGS

At least thirty days before any meeting of the Institute, the Secretary shall have notice of the meeting publicized to every assigned member and to every Institute component organization. The notice shall state the time and place at which the meeting will be held and the business to be transacted. No failure in, or irregularity of, notice of an annual meeting shall invalidate either the meeting or actions taken at the meeting or as a result of the meeting.

5.2 VOTING AT CONVENTION

5.21 Delegates. Duly accredited representatives of the membership at meetings of the Institute shall be classified as delegates-at-large, member delegates, and state delegates, and International Component delegates.
5.211 Delegates-at-Large. The delegates-at-large shall be the members of the Board, the members of the Strategic Council, and the past presidents of the Institute who are present at the meeting.

5.212 State Delegates. Each state organization chartered by the Institute, including state-wide chapters functioning as state organizations, may be represented at a meeting of the Institute by one state delegate, who shall be an Architect member.

5.213 International Component Delegates. The International Component may be represented at a meeting of the Institute by one International Component delegate, who shall be an Architect Member.

5.214 Member Delegates. Components may be represented by member delegates at a meeting of the Institute on the following basis:

Each local chapter shall be entitled to member delegates based upon the number of assigned members in good standing in the chapter.

Each state-wide chapter functioning as a state organization shall be entitled to member delegates based upon the number of assigned members in good standing in the chapter.

In certain states, there may be both a state organization and local chapters. Where the state organization in such a state has formed one or more sections, the state organization shall be entitled to member delegates based upon the number of members in good standing within the territory of the section(s) who are assigned to the state organization. (Members of sections formed by local chapters in that state shall be apportioned to the local chapters, and shall not be included in determining the number of member delegates to which the state organization is entitled.)

The assigned members of each component specified in this section shall select the component’s representatives to serve as member delegates in the manner prescribed in the component’s bylaws.

5.22 Number of Member Delegates.

5.221 Date of Member Count for Apportioning Member Delegates. The number of member delegates from each component that may be accredited to a meeting of the Institute shall be determined from the Institute records sixty days prior to the date of the meeting.

5.222 Delegate Apportionment. The Secretary shall ensure apportionment of the member delegates based upon the number of assigned members in good standing in each component determined in accordance with Section 5.214 5.213. The number of member delegates entitled to be accredited to represent the component shall be as follows:
1 to 6 assigned members, 1 delegate;
7 to 21 assigned members, 2 delegates;
22 to 36 assigned members, 3 delegates;
37 to 51 assigned members, 4 delegates;
And so forth, with one additional delegate for each additional fifteen assigned members.

5.23 Authority and Powers of Delegates. All rights, powers, and privileges of an annual convention and of a special meeting granted under the laws of the State of New York shall be vested in, and may be exercised by, the delegates.

The president or the secretary of each component shall certify the selection and identity of the member delegates from the component and present to each one a credential card furnished by the Institute. At the meeting, the Credentials Committee shall accredit all delegates entitled to represent the Institute membership.

5.241 Representation by Part of Delegation. If not all of the representatives selected by a component to be member delegates are accredited to the meeting of the Institute, then those who are accredited shall be entitled to cast, in equal portions, the total number of member delegate votes to which the component is entitled.

5.25 Representation by Proxy.

5.251 Proxy for Absent Delegation.

5.2511 Components in the U.S. or U.S. Territories. If none of the representatives selected by a component to be member delegates can attend the meeting the component president or the president’s designate may distribute the component’s votes via written proxy to a member delegate or state delegate from another component in the same state, if possible—or in the same region, in that order of priority. The delegate selected to represent the component shall cast the component’s total number of votes as instructed in the proxy. A delegate may represent only one component in addition to the delegate’s own; provided, however, that: (a) a state delegate may represent by proxy more than one of the components in the delegate’s state at the meeting of the Institute, and (b) the president of a state organization component may designate a member delegate from the president’s state to represent by proxy more than one component in that state.

5.2512 International Component and International Chapters. If none of the representatives selected by the International Component or an international chapter to be member delegates can attend the meeting, then the component president or the president’s designate may distribute the component’s votes via written proxy to a member delegate of another international chapter. The delegate selected to represent the component shall cast the component’s total number of votes as instructed in the proxy. A delegate may represent only one component in addition to the delegate’s own; provided, however, that: (a) the International Component delegate may represent by proxy more than one of the chapters in the International Component, and (b) the president of the International Component may designate a member delegate from the component to represent by proxy more than one chapter in the International Component.

5.252 Apportionment of Chapter Votes During Roll Call. The member delegate votes allocated to a component shall be cast in equal portions by those member delegates of the component present during a roll call vote, eliminating fractional votes.

5.26 Quorum at an Institute Meeting. A quorum for a meeting of the Institute shall be one hundred member delegates.

5.27 Voting Methods at Meetings of the Institute. Electronic voting shall be the exclusive method of voting at a meeting of the Institute, subject to the following exceptions:

Other methods of voting may be used at a meeting of the Institute if they are approved for the meeting by a majority vote taken in accordance with Section 5.28 of these Bylaws, or if the electronic voting system experiences a substantial failure at that meeting. The other methods of voting that may be used are:

- Voice vote;
- Roll call (conducted manually or by any other method approved by the Board of Directors), or
- Secret ballot, if required by these Bylaws.

Resolutions of appreciation shall not require an electronic vote, but may be conducted by voice vote.

5.28 Minimum Number of Votes Required for Action. Unless these Bylaws require otherwise, any action or decision of a meeting of the Institute shall require approval by a majority vote.

5.29 Recording of Votes.

5.291 Voice Votes. On all voice votes each delegate voting shall be presumed to cast one vote.

5.292 Proxy Votes at Convention. On voice votes, proxy votes shall be presumed included in each delegate’s single vote. On every roll call vote or secret ballot, delegates holding proxies shall record separate votes for their assigned chapter and the proxy chapter.
5.3 NON-DELEGATES AT MEETINGS

Members who are not delegates, and Allied and Affiliate members of chapter and state organizations, may attend any meeting of the Institute and may speak at the invitation of the presiding officer.

The Associate members of the Institute shall be represented on the Board by one Director selected from the Associate member category in the manner prescribed in the Rules of the Board. 6.12 Election of Officers. All elected officers of the Institute shall be elected by secret ballot at the annual convention, unless a special meeting is called for that purpose. The President, however, is not elected directly, but assumes office by automatic succession from the office of First Vice President/President-elect. The delegates shall elect the President only when an Acting President is serving under the provisions of Section 6.161 of these Bylaws, or when the First Vice President is unable or unwilling to assume the office of President or is serving under the provisions of Section 6.162.

Under procedures set forth in the Rules of the Board, the Board may appoint a successor to complete an unexpired term in the office of Secretary or Treasurer in the event one or both of those offices becomes vacant, whether through the succession of the Secretary to the office of First Vice President or otherwise. 6.431 Delegations by the Board. The Board may authorize others than the Board to perform certain duties of the Board under these Bylaws and the Rules of the Board. The Board may at any time take over the performance of any or all of these duties unless explicitly provided otherwise in these Bylaws. Only those to whom authority is delegated by the Board may perform duties of the Board, and each duty so performed shall be done under the general directions and instructions of the Board, which shall be responsible therefor.

6.512 State Representatives. Each state organization shall be represented on the Strategic Council by one or more state representatives. Nothing in these Bylaws shall be construed as prohibiting a state organization from adopting or amending provisions in its bylaws that would require a state representative to reside or maintain a principal place of business in that state. (As used in this Section 6.5, “state organization” shall only refer to AIA components chartered in the fifty U.S. States, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico.)

6.513 International Component Representatives. The International Component shall be represented on the Strategic Council by one or more International Component representatives. Nothing in these Bylaws shall be construed as prohibiting the International Component from adopting or amending provisions in its bylaws that would require its representative(s) to reside or maintain a principal place of business in a particular country or geographic region.

6.514 Terms of Office. Terms of office of the state representatives and International Component representatives to the Strategic Council (collectively referred to as "Representatives" for purpose of this Section 6.5) shall take office upon the adjournment of the annual meeting of the Board following their election. Their terms of office shall be for three years, and (unless otherwise prohibited or restricted by the bylaws of the state organization or the International Component by which they are selected) Representatives may serve more than one term, whether consecutive or otherwise. When a Representative has been apportioned and no new Representative has been selected, a Representative from that organization whose term is expiring at the same time the new Representative would be taking office may serve one additional year.

6.515 Number of Representatives. The number of Representatives shall be determined from the Secretary's annual count of assigned Architect and Associate members in good standing according to the following percentages of the membership of components:

More than 10%, up to and including 12.5%: 3 Representatives

6.513 At-Large Representatives. Each year, the Strategic Council shall elect as many as five representatives (who need not be members of the Institute) to reflect the diversity and broader interests of the profession. The Strategic Council shall elect these representatives to serve staggered terms of two years.
6.517 Associate Representative. Associate members shall be entitled to a representative on the Strategic Council, selected in a manner prescribed by the Board. This representative shall not be the same person as the Associate Director selected in accordance with Section 6.02. Nothing in this Section 6.515 shall preclude a student from becoming a representative on the Strategic Council under other provisions of these Bylaws (for example, through selection as an at-large representative under Section 6.513).

6.519 CACE Representative. The Council of Architectural Component Executives (CACE) shall be entitled to a representative on the Strategic Council, selected in a manner prescribed by the Board. This representative shall not be the same person as the CACE Director selected in accordance with Section 6.03. Nothing in this Section 6.516 shall preclude a CACE member from becoming a representative on the Strategic Council under other provisions of these Bylaws (for example, through selection as an at-large representative under Section 6.516).

Subject to Board approval, the Strategic Council may appoint additional representatives to ensure that its size, composition, and competencies support the goals of flexibility, diversity, and representation. In no event, however, shall the overall composition of the Strategic Council exceed 60 members.

6.512 Regional Representatives. The membership within each region (including the International Region, which shall be entitled to one Regional Representative) shall be represented on the Strategic Council by one or more Regional Representatives, who must be Architect members of the Institute. Nothing in these Bylaws, however, shall be construed as prohibiting a region from adopting or amending provisions in its bylaws that would require a Regional Representative to reside or maintain a principal place of business in that region.

6.5121 Terms of Office of Regional Representatives. Regional Representatives shall take office upon the adjournment of the annual meeting of the Board following their election. Their terms of office shall be for three years, and (unless otherwise prohibited or restricted by the bylaws of the region from which they are selected) Regional Representatives may serve more than one term, whether consecutive or otherwise. When a Regional Representative has been apportioned to a region and no new Regional Representative has been selected, a Regional Representative from that region whose term is expiring at the same time the new Regional Representative would be taking office may serve one additional year.
6.5122 Number of Regional Representatives. The number of Regional Representatives for each region except the International Region shall be determined from the Secretary's annual count of assigned Architect and Associate members in good standing according to the following percentages of the assigned membership of components within the United States:

- 1.75% to 4% = 1 Regional Representative
- more than 4%, up to and including 8% = 2 Regional Representatives
- more than 8%, up to and including 12% = 3 Regional Representatives
- more than 12%, up to and including 16% = 4 Regional Representatives
- more than 16%, up to and including 20% = 5 Regional Representatives with one additional Regional Representative for each 4 percent increment of the membership or fraction thereof above 20 percent. Neither members assigned to components outside the United States nor unassigned members shall be included in the annual count. [For purposes of this Section 6.5122, the United States shall include the 50 states, the District of Columbia, and all U.S. commonwealths, territories and possessions (including Puerto Rico, Guam and the U.S. Virgin Islands).]

6.513 At-Large Representatives. Each year, the Strategic Council shall elect as many as five representatives (who need not be members of the Institute) to reflect the diversity and broader interests of the profession. The Strategic Council shall elect these representatives to serve staggered terms of two years.

6.52 Meetings of the Strategic Council.

6.521 Meeting Requirements. The Strategic Council may meet in regular meetings in person as often as twice annually, or more frequently if authorized by the Board, and in special meetings by virtual or other similar means in order to transact business. Any one or more members of the Strategic Council may participate in a meeting of the Strategic Council by conference telephone or similar equipment that allows all persons participating in the meeting to hear one another at the same time. Participation by such means shall constitute presence in person at such a meeting. 6.522 Quorum at Strategic Council Meetings. A majority of the entire voting membership of the Strategic Council shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, those members present may adjourn the meeting to another time and place.

This authority shall not apply to standing Board committees (such as the Finance and Audit Committee and the Compensation Committee), which shall be subject to the sole authority of the Board.

6.54 Strategic Council Actions.

6.541 Strategic Council Majority Vote. Every action of the Strategic Council shall be by a majority vote unless otherwise required by these Bylaws or such rules as the Strategic Council may adopt.

If there is no such successor organization, then all such property shall be devoted and applied to such professional and educational purposes as the Board shall deem best suited to carry on the purposes of the Institute as designated in a resolution duly adopted by the Board; provided, however, that such disposal must be approved as required by the laws of the state of New York.

7.13 Authority to Sell, Lease, Mortgage, Transfer, or Convey Real Property. The real property of the Institute, and the improvements thereon, may be sold, leased, mortgaged, transferred or conveyed by way of deed of trust or otherwise by the affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of the total membership of the Board.

7.131 Real Property in Washington, D.C. 7.4 ENDOWMENT FUNDS

7.41 Inviolability of Endowment Capital. The capital of each endowment fund shall be held inviolate for the purposes of the fund so long as The American Institute of Architects shall endure, and shall not be transferred to any other organization or be pledged or distributed in whole or in part until and unless the Institute shall cease to exist, except as permitted by law or unless the donor has otherwise provided in the original gift, devise, or bequest.

7.42 Successor Endowments. If the Institute terminates its affairs and has no successor with similar purposes, aims, and objects and with the ability to maintain the endowment funds, then before the assets of the Institute are transferred and conveyed in accordance with the provisions of Section 7.12, the amounts held in each of the endowment funds shall be transferred to, accepted by, and conveyed by deed of trust or otherwise, to some organization or organizations most suited at that time to maintain those endowment funds and to carry on the purposes according to the conditions of the donors.

7.43 Obsolete Endowment Funds. If the purposes for which an endowment fund was given or established become obsolete, then the Institute may, pursuant to procedures required by law, transfer such capital in whole or in part to any other endowment fund, or may establish therewith one or more new endowment funds, in order that the aims of the Institute shall be most usefully advanced.

The Board may not decrease the minimum financial reserves required by the policy in any year in which budgeted expenses are to exceed budgeted revenues under Section 7.53.

7.53 Expenditure Limitations, the Board.

7.531 If the minimum financial reserves requirements in the policy established under Section 7.52 have been satisfied for a given fiscal year (as calculated from the Institute’s most recent audited financial statements), the Board may expend or authorize expenditures in an amount exceeding the total estimated revenues to be received by the Institute in the fiscal year under the next annual budget to be approved by the Board; provided, however, that such amount in any given year shall not exceed 2.5 percent of that year’s annual budgeted operating revenue. In the event this causes the Institute to fall out of compliance with its reserves policy, the Board shall develop and implement a plan to return the Institute to compliance within two years after the pertinent expenditures are made.

7.532 If the minimum financial reserves requirements in the policy established under Section 7.52 have not been satisfied for a given fiscal year, the Board shall not expend or authorize expenditures in that fiscal year of an amount exceeding the total estimated revenues to be received by the Institute during such year, as shown in the budget for that year, unless directed and authorized so to do at a duly called meeting of the Institute by the affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of all votes accredited to be cast at the meeting.

7.54 Expenditure Limitations, General. No member, officer, director, committee, jury, department, employee, agent or representative of the Institute shall have any right, authority or power to expend any money of the Institute, to incur any liability for and in its behalf, or to make any commitment that will or may be deemed to bind or involve the Institute in any expense or financial liability, unless such expenditure, liability or commitment has been authorized and budgeted by the Board or by a specific resolution at a duly called meeting of the Institute, except that the Board may provide for the adjustment and reallocation of accounts within the overall approved budget and for increased expenditures balanced by increased revenues.
CHAPTER 8
PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

8.0 CODE OF ETHICS AND PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

8.01 Code of Ethics General Practice.

8.011 Canons of Ethics, Ethical Standards and Rules of Conduct. Changes to the Canons of Ethics, Ethical Standards and Rules of Conduct, referred to as the "Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct" or as the "Code of Ethics," shall be adopted by the convention of the Institute or by a two-thirds vote of the entire Board of Directors. The Code of Ethics shall be published and distributed to all members and applicants for membership in all classes of membership.

8.012 Code of Ethics Interpretation. The National Ethics Council has the authority to interpret the Code of Ethics. Individual members, officers, directors, employees and component organizations have no authority to make binding interpretations or clarifications of the Code.

8.013 Code of Ethics Application. The Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct applies to the professional activities of all classes of membership wherever they occur. Members are not immune from charges of violations of the Code of Ethics or disciplinary action by reason of their practice or position as partners, associates, or as members, stockholders, executive officers, directors or employees of any association, corporation or other legal entity.

8.02 Code of Ethics Violations.

8.021 Code of Ethics Compliance. It is the duty of all members to conduct themselves at all times in conformity with the standards established by the Institute in the Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct and its published interpretations.

8.022 Code of Ethics Charges of Violations. A charge shall be based upon an allegation of violation of one or more of the Rules of the Code of Ethics in effect at the time of the alleged violation. Disciplinary action by a state board of licensing or registration may constitute grounds for a charge of violation of the Code of Ethics.

8.03 Code of Ethics Formal Charges of Violation.

8.031 Formal Charge. Every charge alleging a violation of the Code of Ethics shall be in the form prescribed by the Rules of the National Ethics Council and signed by the person making the charge.
8.032 Limitation on Actions. If the alleged violation of the Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct occurred more than one year before the Complaint is filed, the Complaint may be dismissed for that reason unless the Chairman, during initial review of the Complaint, finds that the delay was for good cause.

8.1 THE NATIONAL ETHICS COUNCIL

8.11 National Ethics Council Responsibilities. The National Ethics Council shall be responsible for the conduct of hearings on charges of violations of the Code of Ethics. However, the National Ethics Council shall defer action on a charge to allow a component, which wishes, an opportunity to obtain an informal settlement.

8.111 Hearing Panels. The Rules of the National Ethics Council may provide for hearing panels, to be appointed by the Chairperson of the National Ethics Council from the membership of the National Ethics Council, to conduct hearings of charges of violation of the Code of Ethics.

8.12 National Ethics Council Authority. The National Ethics Council shall have exclusive authority to determine the appropriate disposition of charges of violation of the Code of Ethics, subject to the appellate process set forth in these bylaws.

8.121 Penalties. The National Ethics Council may impose any of the following penalties:

- Admonition
- Censure
- Suspension, for a period of time
- Termination of membership

The Council may also impose reasonable conditions in addition to the penalties listed above, and increase the penalty if the conditions are not met.

8.131 Composition of and Appointment to the National Ethics Council. The National Ethics Council shall be composed of not more than twelve Architect members of the Institute appointed by the Board of Directors.

8.132 Term. The members of the Council shall be appointed to staggered three-year terms. No member of the Council shall serve more than two three-year terms consecutively.
8.133 Filling Vacancies. In the event of a vacancy, the President may make a temporary appointment to the Council. Service under a temporary appointment shall not count toward the service of two consecutive three-year terms. At its next regular meeting, the Board of Directors shall fill any vacancies for unexpired terms.

8.134 Eligibility. Any AIA Architect member in good standing is eligible for appointment to the National Ethics Council except members of the Board of Directors, and employees of the Institute and its component organizations. Any member of the National Ethics Council, upon becoming a member of the Board or an employee of the AIA or component organization, shall resign from the National Ethics Council.

8.135 Chairperson of the National Ethics Council. A chairperson of the Council shall be designated, from among the members of the Council, by the Board for a term of up to two years, and shall have the following responsibilities:

To review charges initially to decide whether they shall be dismissed without hearing or be heard;

To designate the members of the Council who shall hear the charges;

To administer procedures as developed and approved pursuant to these Bylaws for the prompt and orderly enforcement of the Code of Ethics.

8.14 Rules of the National Ethics Council.

8.141 Establishment. The National Ethics Council shall establish Rules of Procedure. The Rules shall set forth such matters as are necessary for a fair and expeditious disposition of the business of the National Ethics Council. The Rules shall provide for the admission of all relevant and useful evidence and shall not require adherence to the strict rules of evidence.

8.142 Provision for Appeals. In addition to the matters otherwise specified in the Bylaws, the Rules shall provide for the right of appeal to the National Ethics Council from a decision by the chairperson to dismiss a charge, and without limitation, for the right of appeal to the Board by any member upon whom discipline has been imposed by the National Ethics Council. All terminations of membership shall be reviewed and concurred in by the Board of Directors. The standards and procedures for treating such appeals shall be set forth in the Rules of the Board.
8.2 CONFIDENTIALITY

8.21 Privilege.

8.211 Charge and Proceedings. Every charge of violation of the Code of Ethics and all records and proceedings relating to the charge shall be confidential and shall not be disclosed or discussed except in connection with the proceedings or as otherwise allowed in the Bylaws. Any hearings concerning charges under the Code shall be closed unless the parties agree to an open hearing.

8.212 Release of Confidentiality. In unusual situations, the President of the Institute (or the Secretary in the absence of the President) may determine, after consideration of all of the circumstances, that the best interests of the profession, or of the Institute, or of a member or a component require authorization of release of information concerning a charge of violation of the Code of Ethics beyond that otherwise authorized herein.

8.3 PUBLICATION AND ENFORCEMENT OF NATIONAL ETHICS COUNCIL RULINGS

8.31 Record of Case Brought Before National Ethics Council. In all cases where a penalty has been imposed for violation of the Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct, the Secretary shall place a record of the case in the individual's file. The record shall be kept in confidence except under compulsion of law or for appropriate use in any other disciplinary matter concerning the same member.

8.32 Publication of Penalty. In all cases, except those where the penalty is admonition, when an accused member has been found in violation of the Code of Ethics by final action of the National Ethics Council or the Board, a notice of the disciplinary action shall be published in a periodical publication of the Institute, explaining in enough detail to be meaningful to the membership the nature of the violation and the penalty imposed.

8.33 Notice of Exoneration. When an accused is found not in violation of the Code of Ethics by final action of the National Ethics Council or the Board, a notice of exoneration from charges of unprofessional conduct shall be published in a periodical publication of the Institute, upon request, but not otherwise.

8.4 INDEMNIFICATION

The provisions of Section 6.3 of these Bylaws regarding indemnification shall apply to members of the National Ethics Council and its chairperson.
CHAPTER 9

9.01 Bylaws Amendment at a Meeting of the Institute.

9.011 Requirements to Amend Bylaws. These Bylaws may be amended at any meeting of the Institute in the following manner:

The Secretary shall send to each member notice of the proposed amendment and a notice of the meeting at which it is to be voted upon.

If delegates holding at least three-fourths of the votes accredited to be cast at the meeting are present, then the amendment shall require an affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of all votes actually cast on the proposed amendment at the meeting.

If the delegates attending the meeting hold less than three-fourths of the votes accredited to be cast at the meeting, then the amendment shall require an affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of all votes accredited to be cast at the meeting.

9.012 Notice of Bylaws Amendment. Such notice of proposed amendment shall be deemed to have been sent if it has been published in a periodical publication of the Institute and this publication has been sent to each member not less than thirty days before the day of the meeting at which the proposed amendment is to be voted upon.

9.013 Sponsorship of Amendments. Every proposed amendment must be sponsored by the Board or by a written petition signed by Architect or Associate members in good standing in the Institute. A petition by members must bear the signatures of not less than 1% of the total number of Architect and Associate members then in good standing in the Institute, and must be received by the Secretary not less than sixty days before the opening day of the meeting at which the proposed amendment is to be voted upon.
9.02 Amendments by the Board of Directors. In addition to the power to amend certain provisions of these Bylaws in the manner and to the extent herein elsewhere given, the Board, by the affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of its entire membership, may amend any other provision of these Bylaws to forward the objects and facilitate the activities of the Institute or to eliminate from said Bylaws any inconsistency, subject to the limitations set forth below in Section 9.021.

9.021 Limitations on the Board's Power to Amend Bylaws. The Board may not amend the Bylaws to:

Increase the power of the Board;

Change the name or objects of the Institute, its membership or the qualifications therefor, its government, meetings, conditions of affiliations or the terms of office or manner of election of its officers and directors;

Lessen or diminish the rights and interests of any member;

Increase the fees, dues, and other financial liability of any member, unless the Board is herein elsewhere authorized to do so;

Lessen or weaken the safeguarding of the investments, securities, money, special funds, and other property of the Institute or the limitations placed on its expenditures nor extend the authority to make such expenditures or to incur indebtedness;

Change the provisions regarding gifts, advertising, the inspection of records, or the requiring of advice of counsel.

9.022 Legal Review of Bylaws Amendments. Before any amendment to any provision of these Bylaws made by the Board shall become effective, the counsel of the Institute shall approve it as being within the power of the Board to make, in correct legal form, and legally proper.

9.023 Amendments' Effect. Every provision of these Bylaws so amended by the Board shall have the same force and effect as if amended by a meeting of the Institute, and each such amendment shall be incorporated in these Bylaws as a part thereof.

9.024 Publication of Proposed Bylaws Amendments. The proposed amendments shall be published in a periodical publication of the Institute and sent to each member not less than sixty days before action by the Board.

These Bylaws shall be interpreted according to the laws of the state of New York.

9.2 PARLIAMENTARY AUTHORITY

The rules contained in Robert's Rules of Order, Newly Revised shall supplement the rules and regulations adopted by the Institute and the Board and shall govern the Institute, the Board, and the committees in all cases in which such rules are applicable and are not inconsistent or in conflict with law, these Bylaws, or the rules and regulations adopted by the Institute and by the Board.
Bylaws Amendment 21-B

Subject
Votes Required for the Election of At-large Directors

Background
When developing Bylaws Amendment 21-A above, the AIA Secretary noticed additional provisions of the Bylaws that should be considered for revision by the Board.

This pertains to the election of At-large Directors. The Secretary recommends the Bylaws be amended to require the election of At-large Directors by both the delegates and the Strategic Council to be by majority vote, rather than a plurality. Such requirement would then align with the requirements for the election of First Vice President, Secretary, and Treasurer.

A plurality vote only requires that the successful candidate receives the most votes, which may not be the majority of the votes cast. The Secretary’s position is that all members of the Board should be elected by majority.

Required Vote to Amend Bylaws
Bylaws amendments require approval by an affirmative two-thirds vote of the delegates at the meeting, determined in the manner prescribed in Section 9.011 of the Bylaws.

Motion
The delegates assembled at the 2021 annual meeting amend the AIA Bylaws as they appear below, and also authorize the AIA Secretary to renumber any sections and section references resulting from such amendments.

CHAPTER 6
DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

6.04 At-Large Directors. Additional directors are to be selected in the following manner:

6.041 Selection by the Delegates at Convention. The delegates at each annual convention of the Institute shall elect one of three at-large Directors to serve on the Board. Each Director so elected shall serve for a three-year staggered term. No fewer than two-thirds of the at-large Directors selected by the delegates at convention shall be Architect members. The Board of Directors shall adopt appropriate procedures governing the nomination of at-large Directors and their selection by the delegates, and shall publish such procedures in the Rules of the Board.

6.0411 Votes Required. Nominees for At-large Director must receive a majority of the votes cast in order to be elected to office. Therefore, if more than two candidates are nominated for this position, a primary election shall be held. Primary election procedures are outlined in the Rules of the Board.

6.042 Selection by the Strategic Council.

6.0421 Election of Directors. The Strategic Council shall elect three at-large Directors to serve on the Board for three-year staggered terms.

6.0422 Eligibility. The Strategic Council shall have broad discretion in electing Directors, who may include Associate members, members of the Council of Architectural Component Executives, public representatives, or such other individuals as the Strategic Council may deem appropriate. In no event, however, shall fewer than two-thirds of the Directors elected by the Strategic Council and serving on the Board at any one time be Architect members.

6.04221 Votes Required. Nominees for At-large Director must receive a majority of the votes cast in order to be elected to office. Therefore, if more than two candidates are nominated for this position, a primary election shall be held. Primary election procedures are outlined in the Rules of the Board.

6.043 Selection by the President. Subject to approval by the Board, the President may select as many as two individuals to serve as Directors, with each such Director serving for a term which shall last no longer than the term of the President making the selection(s).

6.044 Minimum Number of Architect Members. No fewer than five at-large Directors at any time shall be Architect members.
5. Report of the 2021 Resolutions Committee

Resolutions Committee
Robert Cozzarelli, FAIA, 2021 chair
Verity L. Frizzell, FAIA
Ashley Hartshorn, AIA
William R. Turner Jr., AIA, AIA Secretary (ex officio)
Erin Conti, Assoc. AIA, AIAS, 2021 President, American Institute of Architecture Students (ex officio)

The Resolutions Process
A resolution is a formal request from the membership for the Board of Directors to take a particular action. Anyone can write a resolution, but it must be properly sponsored before it may be submitted to the Resolutions Committee. The Resolutions Committee verifies the sponsorship, reviews the resolution and may edit it for clarity or combine it with another similar resolution, in consultation with the designated sponsor.

At the annual meeting, each resolution is brought up for debate and vote by the chair of the Resolutions Committee. A majority vote of the delegates present at the annual meeting is required to adopt a resolution. New resolutions may be presented from the floor but cannot be debated or put to a vote without two-thirds (2/3) approval of the delegates to consider the resolution. (See AIA Rules of Procedure for the Annual Meeting.)

If a resolution is adopted by convention delegates, it is considered for ratification and implementation by the Board of Directors at its first post-convention meeting. A resolution does not take effect without ratification by the Board. Resolution sponsors are notified of the Board action and are consulted in the implementation of the resolutions they sponsored. The actions taken on last year's resolutions are reported later in this Booklet.

Report of the Chair
The Resolutions Committee herewith reports to the delegates to the 2021 annual meeting the resolutions received and reviewed by the Committee. In accordance with the Committee’s charge, the submitted resolutions were carefully reviewed and edited for clarity and grammar. The sponsors were contacted as necessary to clarify intent and verify that the resolutions accurately expressed the sponsors’ proposal. The resolutions presented for action are:

THE BUSINESS AT HAND
The world is going through one of the most economically damaging events in recent times. The COVID pandemic has led to firms closing at a cost of millions of jobs lost. Our members are struggling at the same time as our profession is evolving at a rapid rate. My core objective on the AIA Board of Directors will be to advocate for the survival and success of our businesses, no matter how large or small. To do that, I believe we must achieve the following:

Advocacy
The AIA must transform itself to become a strong advocate for policies that enable us to thrive. The world is at a turning point – we cannot sit on the sidelines as others decide our fate. We need to leverage our numbers and fight for the things that matter most to our profession.

Connection
Disruptions are happening in all project typologies. Our firms need to know about the latest innovations and trends. Knowledge sharing is key. We must improve our existing platform to increase sharing and help our members be the best they can be, taking advantage of the technologies available to us.

Equity
Work is being redefined as we speak, there is no better time than now to ensure that changes in our profession will resolve in a fairer and more equal environment. The AIA must continue to lead the way in developing and adopting policies that respond to core issues with women, minorities, and other groups that are under-represented in our profession.

Thank you for your support.

Creating Space and Opportunity. Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion is a must to fulfill the promises of this Nation. We must continue to forge paths and space within our respective firms for all underrepresented groups to be represented as staff and as firm leaders.

Citizen Architect. Architects inherently are problem solvers. We must lend our voice to the issues of homelessness, food deserts, accessibility, and climate change at all levels of government—local, county, state and federal. Let’s all get involved!

[Affordable] Housing Solutions for Everyone. For many working-poor, the dream of being able to attain housing remains elusive. In Los Angeles, the Skid Row corridor is a neighborhood of 4,000+ homeless people. Our architectural solutions should be dignified and affordable. Our collective voices should advocate for funding necessary to address this crisis.

Essential Work to Lessen Debt. In the age of COVID-19, we have become familiar with the term, “essential workers.” We should advocate on behalf of those that lend their architectural services to “essential work” (affordable housing, disaster relief and emergency building solutions) be provided with the opportunity to work towards forgiveness of the student debt.

Ricardo J. Rodriguez de Santiago, Assoc. AIA
AIA Washington DC

The AIA has made consistent progress recently in taking a stance on our profession's role in Climate Action, Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion. We must acknowledge that to meet these challenges effectively, our organization must be proactive in coming to terms with practice disruption.

I’m committed to providing my 15 years of experience in practice and my global AEC-tech leader expertise at the Institute’s service. Having honed my leadership skills through AIA service, I’m motivated to declare my candidacy for the Director-at-Large National Board position.

In this role, I intend to support the Institute’s members in:

• Elevating the strategic and business importance of fostering innovation
• Streamlining access to the resources & services needed to navigate change
• Bridging the gap in digital education across experience levels
• Advocating for inclusion of new voices and external partnerships

Focus on people and relationships
We can leverage our network of resources by rethinking the way we onboard forward-thinking talent. Diversity & inclusion efforts should also reach out to those voices we have marginalized because they were once too “alternative.” By expanding the definition of practice, we would empower architecture professionals with the knowledge and tools required to operate in new contexts.

Unconformity with systems that devalue or isolate us
Tech leadership is directly related to our market relevance and sustainable business practices. We must define a stance in our relationship with emerging tech, the means to access our resources efficiently, and talent comfortable with working “outside the box.”

Leverage smart and agile resources to stop the guesswork
We must be agile in embracing the tools needed to provide value to our members and communities. The global pandemic has accelerated our market into being the most receptive to business innovation than it has been in decades. This rapid transition is an opportunity to welcome new forms of practice and rethink legacy processes. We must also optimize the untapped data and services that firms already produce.

Our profession is at its most pivotal point in a century
We need to lead this transformation through our unique expertise.

Candidate for 2022-2023 Treasurer

Timothy C. Hawk, FAIA
AIA Columbus/AIA Ohio

I am inspired to shape the work of the AIA as Treasurer. Together, we can assure that resources are aligned to grow our collective voice and expand our influence.

Expand Influence
Since 2019, AIA has sharpened its focus. We have taken significant steps to lay a solid foundation to address some of the most pressing issues of our time. Now, we must work to harness the efforts of all 95,000 members to actively engage in our communities, to share our knowledge, and to shape policy and patronage.

Our ability and capacity to tackle today’s complex challenges must be linked to an audacious, strategic allocation of AIA resources. Simply said, we need to align our dollars and volunteer efforts to answer the call for creative solutions throughout society.

Increase Transparency
As AIA Treasurer, I will diligently communicate financial strategies to national and component leaders, Council of Architectural Component Executives (CACE) members, and the membership, to educate and align resource allocation across the Institute. Greater understanding of financial strategies will increase efficiency and reduce the likelihood of needless spending at the local, state, and national level.

Over the past ten years as CEO of my firm, I have harnessed similar communication strategies to propel a ten-fold increase in revenue. Internal communication and staff training has distributed financial accountability and accelerated growth. Everyone contributes to the financial bottom line which allows profits to be re-invested in technology, marketing, and profit sharing…and all team members provide feedback to shape our investment strategy.

Leverage our Valuable Financial Resources
Yes, persistent fiscal responsibility must be sustained, and economic awareness must guide the prudent allocation of our valuable resources in support of the mission and members. However, we must also use of our collective ingenuity to spark new sources of non-dues revenue, and to link our intellectual property with consumers across design, real estate, and construction sectors. Our knowledge, engagement, and leadership will create real value.

Heather P. Philip-O’Neal, AIA
AIA New York Chapter/AIA New York

It is with great enthusiasm I ask for your support in my bid for the office of Institute Treasurer.

Respond to the Social Issues Facing the Nation and the Profession

Given the unrest in society at large, and the economic crisis due to the pandemic, the AIA is beginning to make an impact with firms around the country with the AIA “Guides for Equitable Practice”. Changes are happening quickly in the business world and it is critical for the AIA to continue to provide resources and support firms nationwide, speaking especially for small firm practitioners.

Be an Advocate for the Profession

Advocacy is one of the most vital functions of the AIA. I currently serve on the AIA New York Chapter Advocacy Committee, where we track local and national policy issues and take action as needed in the interest of our members. In addition, I believe that the AIA should continue with strong commitment for resilient design, sustainability, and, minimizing the effects of climate change.

My background includes experience in financial management: budgeting, tracking and successfully managing funds to achieve the goals of the National Organization of Minority Architects (NOMA) where I served as the national treasurer from 2006-2010, and since then as a member of the NOMA Finance Committee. As the treasurer for the AIA, I will draw on the skills I have developed to provide financial leadership while continuing to uphold the standards of excellence in managing AIA finances as have both the current and past treasurers.

I look forward to the opportunity to work with the National leadership in this critical role and to advance the mission of the AIA.

When I wrote the introduction to the AIA Guides for Equitable Practice, I began with the following:

Increasingly, architects will be called to lead efforts in finding solutions to many of our world’s most pressing issues. Successfully meeting these challenges, and others not yet known, will require talent, passion, and creativity of a diverse cohort of students, professionals, and leaders.

Since the nine-part guides were first conceived in 2016, the urgency for architects to lead efforts to find solutions for society’s most pressing problems has skyrocketed. The multiple layers of challenges facing people and the built environment are more starkly visible during the tumultuous events surrounding or triggered by the 2020 global pandemic as well as the newly heightened attention to systemic racism. To successfully meet these ongoing and new challenges, the depth, knowledge, and outreach of the AIA community will be essential.

Architecture is for everyone. Our advocacy is needed more than ever. We have the ability through our day-to-day work, as knowledge experts, and community members to testify to and expand the power of design in shaping a better future—one that reflects the society we serve.

Architecture impacts how we live. Good design, planning, and advocacy leads to better public health outcomes, prosperity, and equity. We understand how these issues connect with each other.

Architects are creative problem solvers. Architects are uniquely positioned to advocate for sustainability, resiliency, and urgent climate action. We have the skills to bring people together and build consensus through vision.

Architects know how to make things happen. The US construction industry is 4% of the GDP. Considering the value of our work as an economic driver in construction and real estate, we have a great stake in the economy. We have the knowledge, passion, and influence to shape places that contribute to prosperity and economic diversity.

Educate the Public about the Built Environment
People do not understand the world outside. We as architects should provide a gallery guide to the “outdoor exhibition” that goes beyond cultural tourism to describe place so that people can make intelligent and thoughtful decisions about how they want to live in our cities in the future.

Create a Virtual Building Museum
We need to showcase America’s best buildings so that people will know what is good. The core collection can be drawn from winners of AIA design awards.

Educate the Public about Value of Design
Design education trains architects to be big thinkers. Better than any other profession, we know how to take a seemingly insolvable challenge like climate change and deconstruct and reconstruct it so that it can be solved. We need to remind people that we are the best situated for this, that it is critical and that we deserve to be compensated accordingly.

Get a Seat at the Table
Often we are invited into projects long after the planning decisions are made. We should be leading all discussions about the built environment.

Provide Value to Our Members
We need to serve our members at all stages in their careers. There is the ARE bootcamp program I started for interns. Mid-career practitioners would benefit from consolidating all the components programs onto a single calendar. At the other end of the scale, we should collect the oral histories of our senior practitioners.
